

SANDRA K. Kohlbrecher

Sandra Kohler Kohlbrecher is a self-made writer and artist. Her writing library consists of her first mystery novel titled "Graffiti Bridge." She has published eight short stories/memoirs along with other writers who belong to the Highland League of writers in Highland, IL. Their group book is titled "Words, An Anthology of Short Writings." Black Rose Writing published both books. Sandra is currently working on her second mystery novel titled "New Haden" along with a collection of several short stories.

When not writing, Sandra is fulfilling her many other artistic talents. Besides writing, she does photography, sketches, and paints in various mediums. Her works may be located at Unique Designs & Décor in Highland, IL. You can find them on Facebook.

Sandra lives in the mid-western state of Illinois with her husband, William. You may reach Sandra on Facebook or by email at bksk22@yahoo.com.

